GREAT FLOOD DAMAGE.

The Waters of the Columbia River Continue to Rise.

HUNDRED OF MILES INUNDATED.

Crop on the Fertile Bottom Lands Ruined, Houses Washed Away and Much Stock Drowned—Railroad Traffic Totally Suspended—Fifty Drowned in Spain.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 2.—The flood in the Columbia continues to increase, and the indications are that the worst is yet to come. Thursday the Upper Columbia at several points was at a standstill, but late reports show that the river is again rising about one foot in twenty-four hours. The river is more than a foot higher than ever before known, and the damage will be immense.

The fertile bottom lands along the river from the Rocky mountains to the sea, a distance of 300 miles, are all inundated. Crops are ruined, hundreds washed away and stock drowned. The flood has come gradually, which has given residents an opportunity to move household goods to places of safety, and to most imminent much has been done to higher ground. The saloon opening business has been almost annihilated. Fish and canning establishments along the river for a distance of 300 miles are under water.

Telegraphic communication is therewith and cast is cut off, except by a roundabout way. Along the Union Pacific from this city to Umatilla, about twenty miles of track are under water. They have established steamboat service which enables them to carry the mails and passengers. The Northern Pacific does not attempt to operate its line between this city and Cobe, a distance of forty miles but makes connection by the large transfer boat.

In the city the water has risen into basements as far back as Ninth street and more than half the stores in the city are stopped for want of power. Today's mails from The Dalles brings the information that the government locks at the Cascades are in danger.

Sauvies Island, a few miles below Portland, is almost entirely under water. Many buildings are afloat. Crops are ruined and other property is damaged. The losses will aggregate $150,000.

Fifty Drowned in a Flood.

MADRID, June 2.—The river Segre, in the province of Lerida, swollen by recent heavy rains, suddenly swept over the Seo de Urgel road yesterday, destroying an inn and a warehouse. The bodies of fifteen drowned persons have already been recovered, and it is believed that fifty people lost their lives by the rise in the river. In addition to the many people drowned, a large number of cattle and a considerable amount of produce have been destroyed.

Texas Covered Away.

BOULDER, Colo., June 2.—Fifty feathers between here and the mountains have been carried away. The forests of Copper Rock and Sugar Loaf are gone and Prussian and Cheyenne mills, finished, and are of their accumulations swept down the canyon. Springdale and Jamestown suffered greatly, but no particulars can be had except that the Springdale hotel is a ruin. Several other small towns along the canyon have been partly destroyed.

Great Storm Damage.

DULUTH, Minn., June 2.—The damage by the flood in this county is estimated at $100,000. The storm was the heaviest and most destructive in the memory of the oldest citizens. On the mountains the rainfall was 10 inches in four hours. All the bridges over Knife, Stark and Talmadge have gone. Some have been washed away and some floated.

Commencement at College Hill.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The class of '94 of Columbia college was graduated on Fifth avenue last night and then adjourned to a vacant lot and crowned the college flower in effigy. There and were college yells. Then placed on a coffin. A hearse drawn by two white horses, with muffled men dressed in white gowns and carrying lighted candles, escorted the coffin to the burial place. The faces of the boys were daubed with paint. The parade was escorted by a score of policemen who marched in silence and fear of the college. Before the ceremony of cremation the parade marched through the streets led by a band, which could scarcely be heard amidst the howling of the mob of students.

Importing Coke Workers.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., June 2.—Two carloads of non-union men were brought into the region by special train yesterday. They were met at all principal railroad men from West Virginia. The Italian labor agent who brought the men here was assaulted last night by strikers and terribly beaten. John Rutter's monument at the Valley works was burned last night. It was set upon by strikers and had to be guarded by the police. Deputies had to be called from the Valley plant to take him home. The operators are giving more evidence every day of a determination to fight.

BATTLE OVER SUGAR BEGUN.

The Democrats Propose to Press Him Longer Senate Sessions.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The battle royal over the sugar schedule began yesterday. The entire day was occupied by two speakers, Senators Manderson (Neb.) and Peffer (Kan.), both of whom favored a bounty instead of a duty. There was no exciting incidents. It is probable that the hard hand to hand fighting over this schedule, on which it is generally admitted depends the fate of the bill, will not begin until Monday. It is not considered possible on the floor of the senate that the sugar schedule can be defeated outright, as the Republicans are not absolutely united, but there is believed to be a possibility that the determining day in favor of the sugar refiner may be partially or wholly defeated. It is the intention of the Democratic managers to force still longer sessions beginning on Monday next. The senate is now sitting from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. The senatorial investigation will probably be postponed until 10 a. m.

Fridays are usually private bill days in the senate, but yesterday the private calendar was abandoned and the Hawaiian state bank tax bill occupied part of the day. The speakers were Senator Stewart (Nev.) and Senator Gorman (Md.), against the bill and Senator Hoar (Mass.) and Senator Lodge (Mass.) in favor of it. A night session was held for the consideration of pension bills.

Brutal Murder in Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., June 2.—Guido Carbonetto died Thursday night as a result of a stab received Saturday by Gregorio Indorato from New York. The affray took place Monday night at Carmadello's eating house at No. 8 Railroad place. Both men and four others entered the place and, under the pretense of asking for something to eat, drew Carmadello aside. Two of the men held Carmadello while Robertigni stabbed the unfortunate restaurant keeper in the breast and back. Not content with this Robertigni swung the shoemaker's knife, with which he did his murderous work, around in the wound in the back until the knife broke in his back. Robertigni pursues Carmadello of stealing his wife. Both men have all been arrested.

Test of Rapid Firing Guns.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., June 2.—An important test of rapid fire guns was made yesterday at the Sandy Hook proving grounds. Four six pounders—the Driggs-Schroeder, Sprengel Hotchkiss and Hotchkiss Nordenfelt—were competitively tested. The Hotchkiss gun a three pounder, was also subjected to similar tests. The records made were as follows: Driggs-Schroeder, 24 shots in one minute; Hotchkiss Nordenfelt 20 in one minute; Hotchkiss 30 to thirty seconds; Sprengel, 24 shots in one minute. Nordenfelt against the Hotchkiss and Driggs-Schroeder. Hotchkiss and Sprengel are American guns, the Nordenfelt Austrian and the other English.

Religious Riot in Spain.

MADRID, June 2.—Serious disturbances are reported from Sutera, province of Murcia. It appears that a priest carrying a crucifix in his hand went to the parish officer's residence described as a "high standing," and ordered the funeral to take place. The occupier of the dead man being extremely critical of the interference of the priest, who was supported by a number of the members of his congregation, a fierce fight followed, which was with difficulty suppressed by the police. It is believed that there will be further conflicts between the rural and the town dwellers.

Murderer Johnson Confesses.

ALLEGHENY, Pa., June 2.—Henry Johnson, under sentence of death for murder, has confessed his crime. He made a statement over his signature that to July last he took his step-child daughter to the Lehigh river and threw her in to get rid of her, because she had been burdensome to him. Johnson and his wife had separated. She kept the girl up him as the cause where he worked. He tired of keeping her and drowned her. Johnson said he took her above the water and threw her in the river at a secluded spot after dark.

The Paper against Gerrymandering.

TRENTON, N. J., June 2.—A large mass meeting was held here yesterday afternoon to protest against the candidacy of Colonel W. J. Buchanan for congress. 200 fellow hunt present. A. J. Alexander, the noted horse breeder, was chairman. Speeches condemning Buchanan were made by Professor W. W. Mercy, Judge J. C. Kinkaid and Hon. J. R. Dierne. The audience cheered almost continuously. Resolutions were adopted demanding Buchanan's withdrawal.

DR WEBKE'S POPULARITY

Enthusiastic Reception to Emperor's Physician at Unna Fest.

BERLIN, June 2.—Dr. Weble and the other members of the visiting Hanoverian military regiment from Wiesbaden arrived at Potsdam last night and were received by the people with an enthusiasm resembling that displayed during the recent ovations to the father of Louis Rocroth. Placards had been posted to encourage to the citizens the time at which the former ministers would arrive, and fully 40,000 persons gathered in the vicinity of the station when the train reached the city. All the Liberal members of the Hohenzollern house of representatives were gathered on the platform, and were the first to greet Dr. Weble and his party. Carriages were in waiting, and the party escorted toward the Liberal club.

The carriages proceeded amid continuous shouting and cheering, but the people still thronged the road, and the speed made was so slow that Dr. Weble was taken in charge by the police, who forced a passage through the crowd and conducted him to another carriage, in which he was driven rapidly to the club. There a frank ovation awaited him. A counter of hollow stood at the entrance of the building and showered down upon him as he stepped out a ground of students carrying flags greeted him with songs and cheers.

Later Dr. Weble, replying to congratulations upon the outcome of the last encounter, made a brief address, explaining the occasion for his retirement. He expressed his opinion that the civil marriage bill to which his personal convictions would ultimately produce a law. This announcement was received with enthusiastic cheering.

The Weekly Meeting a Failure.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The business men's meeting in Carnegie Music hall last evening, to protest against the income tax feature of the proposed new tariff bill, was notable more for the character of the audience than for the number and enthusiasm of those who attended. The call was signed by nearly 200 representatives of the largest business interests of the city, but only 1,000 attended the meeting. The platform was crowded with gentlemen influential in the business world of the city. Elaborate preparations had been made to accommodate the crowds that had been expected, spacious boxes having been erected to address an overflow meeting, but these were not called for them. The speakers in the hall denounced the income tax in vigorous terms, but met with few responsive cheers.

Opposite Police Protection.

NEW YORK, June 2.—It is the policy investigating committee Charles Frey, who formerly kept a merchants' house in Bayard street, testified that while in that line he was compelled to pay for "protection" 100 per month while Captain Cross was in command of the precinct, that when Captain Velasquez succeeded Cross he was compelled to pay an "increased fee" of $200 and to Lieutenant Devery 100 per month, besides paying 100 as Chief Devery's "share" to all to the total paid $4,700. Rhoda Bradford gave similar testimony.

The Fever Holds Another Record.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The Announcing the weather Forecast which issued last night from Southampton broke the record on the true just called over the western ocean. She made the run in nearly Monday a distance of 3,110 miles in six days, eleven hours and thirty-three minutes, making an average of 520 knots per hour. The vessel's course which gave the pilot no chance to attempt to pilot over to the outgoing people on account of the outrage, pointed to Sandy Hook before the regular channel could be reached.

The Sequestration Case.

CHICAGO, June 2.—In the United States court of appeals decided to-day that the writs of the United States court from Judge Baker, which prohibited them to quit work on the Northern Pacific railroad, will not go down to the United States supreme court. Judges Harlan Woods and Brown constituted to-day the court of appeals for the Eighth circuit. Counsel for the men proceeded to argue the case, and it is to-day expected that their appeal will be heard.

Good Work on Quarantine.

LONDON, June 2.—A dispatch from Belgrade says the following telegram has just been received from Sofia Ex-Premier Stambuloff and the ministers who formed his cabinet are under arrest. Civil war has broken out. Two battalions of troops have rebelled and demanded the reinstatement of M. Stambuloff. They have been joined by the regulars and in an attack on the troops who have declared for Prince Ferdinand.

Very Satisfactory Results.

"Two years ago my husband was taken sick with kidney and liver complaint. He had two physicians, and all the medicine he took seemed to go against him. He had no appetite and could not sleep. At last I prevailed upon him to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and he did so with very satisfactory results." Mrs. George Luce, Hinsdaleville, N. Y.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Disastrous Effects of the Great Coal Strike on Industries.

MORE FACTORIES CLOSING DOWN.

The Pig Iron Industry of the Central Western States Practically at a Standstill—Unfavorable and Alarming Reports.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Bradstreet's trade review says: The decidedly unfavorable condition of general trade reported last week continues without material improvement. Continued delay of tariff legislation produces the chilling effect on wholesale business. The great coal strike continues without a sign of early suppression, no compromise having been made by either side. Many mills, furnaces and factories have closed their doors for want of fuel. The pig iron industry of the central western states is practically at a standstill for want of coke and ore. At Pittsburg and vicinity the scarcity of fuel is growing more serious. There are now four furnaces of Pittsburg in the coal that almost all of these personally operated are in blast.

The favorable features come from Boston, Omaha, Augusta, Ga., and Jacksonville, Fla. Shipments of goods on the Lake Superior reach a large size for the season of the year, and which fuel has been unrestricted, while traffic rates throughout Nebraska have improved that state's crop prospects and caused more active purchases from Omaha jobbers. Augusta Ga. reports a gain in the volume of business as compared with the last three weeks, and that cotton manufacturers have orders ahead and are running on full time, while needed rains throughout the Florida vegetable districts have stimulated demand, so that Jacksonville trade is brisk. At most western cities there has been practically no change from the depression of last week.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: It is a sign of cheering import that in finished business, represented by clearings and railway tonnage there has been less decrease since the strikes began than might have been expected. Business failures become the orders which start the wheels, to result in earnings and payment weeks or months later, there seems to be an actual recovery.

Meanwhile the consequent interruption of traffic and industry increases. The stoppage of iron furnaces but warm the Alleghany mountains and the Mississippi river has become complete, and a great number of concerns manufacturing iron and others requiring soft coal or coke for fuel have been forced to stop. Business cannot increase in volume under such circumstances, and yet payments through all clearing houses for the week show a decrease of only 20.9 per cent. compared with last year. Though a large number of wants are still the demand for products to put what might be expected either increase or an improvement.

Liabilities reported in failures for the fourth week of May were 6,7 which, and for four weeks ending May 24, $11,876,167, of which $4,418,046 were of manufacturing and $3,200,121 of trading concerns. Reports yet to come in may increase the aggregate to $12,000,000 for the month. This failures this week have been 178 in the United States, against 240 for the same week last year and 27 in Canada, against 21 last year. Coin and bullion, both gaining, another important item.

Alleged Violation of Labor Laws.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Superintendent Jerome of the immigration bureau, has received a number of violations of the alien contract labor laws in the Connecticut [illegible] and that prosecutions will be instituted against the persons concerned. Secretary Carlisle has given instructions of the provisions of the law.

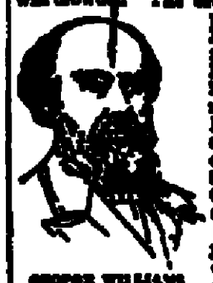
THE INTERNATIONAL JUBILEE.

Meeting of Y. M. C. A. Delegates from All Over the World.



GEORGE WILLIAMS.

LONDON, June 2.—The International jubilee and convention of the Young Men's Christian association was opened yesterday by an impressive service in Westminster Abbey. The great edifice was crowded. The order of service was printed in English, French and German. The Bishop of London preached last night at a meeting and reception in Exeter hall, where the sessions of the convention will be held. The venerable George Williams, the president of the association, who has just been knighted, was present at the reception and was given an ovation. Prince Bernadotte, Count Bernstorff, chamberlain to the German emperor, Lord Kinnaird, Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler, Bishop John P. Newman, Rev. George A. Hall and many other church leaders were on the platform.

Archdeacon Wachter read an address of welcome to the delegates, a portion of the address being in English, a portion in French and the remainder in the German language.

The proceedings were made quite dramatic at the close by Emperor and Empress—at the request of Sir George Williams and Rev. Dr. Cuyler shaking hands across the most extraordinary applause.

RIOTOUS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Disgraceful Affair at a Dickinson College Freshmen's Entertainment.

CARLISLE, Pa., June 2.—The annual burlesque entertainment by the freshmen of Dickinson college at the opera house here last night ended in a disgraceful row which almost assumed the proportions of a riot. While the performance was in progress a crowd of sophomores entered the hall. They were supplied with tin horns and other contrivances for making noises, and set up a din that completely drowned the voices of the performers. One of the latter became so enraged that he hurled a beer bottle from the stage into the audience, striking Miss Foster, of this city, full in the face. The many other women in the audience were panic stricken and began to scream, and the freshmen and sophomores became involved in a free fight. The police rushed in at this juncture and clubbed right and left until something like order was restored, but it was not until President Reed, of Dickinson college, appeared that comparative quiet was restored. Miss Foster, who had been carried to the stage in an unconscious condition, was revived with difficulty, and taken to her home. She is badly hurt, but will recover.

For a Shorter Route to the Ocean.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Today's Engineering and Mining Journal says: The question of a ship canal across the Maryland-Delaware peninsula, shortening the coast route of ocean-steamers equalling fifty miles, and at intervals for nearly a century, and several companies have been formed to examine the work aside from that which built and now operate the Chesapeake and Delaware canal. Interest in the undertaking has mainly disappointed some engineers, and a commission has been authorized by the Delaware city council to examine the co-operation of congress in an appropriation for preliminary surveys with reference to the establishment of the canal's feasible route.

The Payment in Bullion.

BERLIN, June 2.—Bismarck, from Kissingen, says that two battalions of infantry and the entire police force have been ordered to assist in driving off gendarmes. The deputies still show a bloody fight has taken place between the gendarmes and police and the local troops, during which several were killed. Socialist editors, demonstrations, directed against the police, are reported from the provinces, and one of the editors in question has been killed.

SENATE INVESTIGATION

Congressman Warner Before the Senate Committee.

DECLINES TO ANSWER QUESTIONS.

It Is Stated by Members of the Committee, However, That the Questions on Which He Remained Silent Were of No Great Importance.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—When Representative Warner, of New York, went before the senate sugar investigating committee yesterday he announced before he was sworn his intention of reserving the privilege as a member of the house of answering only such questions as might be thought proper. Several times during his examination he fell back upon this privilege and refused to answer some of the questions which were asked. It is said that some of these were not very important, while others were pertinent to the examination. The committee decided that it has no power to make a member of the house testify before a senate committee, and all that it can do is to certify the fact to the other house. This was the method pursued in the celebrated Credit Mobilier affair when a senator refused to testify before a house committee. The investigating committee has not decided to take this course with Mr. Warner and it may not do so.

It is understood that one of the points on which the committee sought to obtain a statement from Mr. Warner was as to the influence brought to bear upon him to cause his opposition to the sugar duty, but this failed. Mr. Warner told the committee that a large amount of his information came from conversation with members of the house who were discussing the events relating to the sugar duties. He was asked who these members were, and in every instance declined to give the name of any of his fellow members of the house. The committee says that the testimony which Mr. Warner refused to give was of a hearsay character, and not of such importance that would warrant any extraordinary methods to obtain.

There is expressed great desire to have the testimony that has recently been obtained by spy in the senate before the vote is taken on the sugar schedule, and it is probable that it or as available several blocks of it will be read on Monday. The points of most interest are those relating to the testimony of Secretary Carlisle and others relating to the sugar schedule. The point in Mr. Edwards' story as to how the schedule was drawn together with certain proceedings on a Sunday at the Capitol have been denied by all witnesses. Senator Jones has signified that he requested Secretary Carlisle to draw the sugar schedule and the secretary has frankly said he drew it.

Senator Allen had testified that Warner came to him with a letter of introduction from Secretary Carlisle, but that he did not use Havemeyer. With reference to this matter, it is stated that Allen was a mere matter of courtesy and previous Mr. Havemeyer had slight acquaintance with Mr. Allen, and in order to make sure and secure him a conference with the senator, Secretary Carlisle, at the request of Mr. Havemeyer, gave him a note of introduction. Similar letters had been given by Mr. Carlisle to gentlemen who called upon him in connection with the tariff, some of whom were manufacturers, both to personally know, and who desired to receive changes in the rates fixed by the committee.

The committee will not go to New York to take testimony but will in all probability meet next week.

The Pennsylvania Convention Adjourns.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 2.—The third and last day of the twenty-first annual Pennsylvania Industrial congress was largely attended by the delegates. Old signs are written in thy tender face,
Desires, regrets that thou hast never known.
Thou art the heir of thy aspiring race,
Heir of a troubled throne.

Of hope that hardly dost portend the morn,
And sadness that hast scarcely guessed at pain.
God takes the characters of fate outworn
And writes them in fair again.

Those little feet, that scarce the light turf press,
Those little hands so brown with wind and sun—
God grant they tremble not for weariness
Before thy course be done.

And thou shalt love and learn what love is worth.
And thou shalt trust and learn to value men,
And all the sudden mysteries of earth
Shall open to thy ken.

Can I not smooth the meditative brow,
Flash through the sun and flutter through the shade,

Thou givest, couldst thou only understand!
The kiss of childish pity and the touch
Of thine absolving hand.

—New York Ledger.

A PLUCKY ENGINEER.

I am a civil engineer, or rather I was one until I retired a few years ago with a comfortable fortune. Many men in our profession have had exciting experiences, but I doubt whether anybody but myself has ever traveled at the rate of 60 miles an hour, suspended beneath a railway carriage.

I was never a man to seek adventure for its own sake; neither was I inclined to be timid when a task attended with danger had to be performed. My work often brought me into great peril; but, except on the occasion of which I am about to write, I had, fortunately, kept clear of accidents.

It was in the seventies that I received the appointment of chief engineer to one of the big railway lines connected with Boston. I was of an inventive turn and had recently taken out a patent for a radial axle frame for six wheeled coaches. This was a device that enables the wheels of a carriage to adjust themselves to sharp curves and so obviate the friction of the rail and consequent danger that attached to the ordinary fixed axles.

This patent of mine was applied experimentally to several coaches on my line, and the results were to all appearances very satisfactory. However, I had a technical dispute with a brother engineer, an old friend in whose opinion I generally had the fullest confidence, respecting a rather important detail. As a matter of fact, we held different opinions as to the behavior of the mechanism when in actual operation, and my working model did not help us much.

"I'll tell you what I will do," I said. "I'll satisfy myself by seeing how it works."

"How do you mean?" he asked.

"Why, I'll travel underneath the coach, hang myself up in a hammock and watch the whole thing."

My friend smiled incredulously.

"Will you accompany me? I am in earnest," I continued.

"No, thank you," was his reply. "I must decline to embark on such a hare-brained adventure. I have a wife and family dependent on me."

But I was determined to settle the point. If what he said was correct, the sooner the modification was made the better. So I made arrangements for my journey on the Boston express next day.

When I reached the railway station, I found that my instructions had been carried out. A large piece of sacking was suspended beneath the carriage by four stout bumpen ropes, passed through wrought iron staples and properly tied and lashed. I examined it carefully and found everything secure.

A few minutes before the train started I crept into my hammock, assisted by my friend, who had come to see me off on my strange journey. He wished me bon voyage, the whistle blew, and we began to move out of the station.

Lying as I was on my back, smoking at a cigar, the motion was at first decidedly pleasant, but as we got up steam and increased our speed my position became one of considerable discomfort. I was rocked from side to side with ever increasing violence and soon became covered with dust and ashes, which, with the tremendous draft, were driven against my face in a manner that was at times quite painful. My eyes were, however, protected by a suitable pair of spectacles that I had taken the precaution to provide myself with.

I was able from my position to watch closely the behavior of the axle frame. I was acquainted with the position and character of every curve on the line, and consequently knew just when to be specially watchful. My gratification was complete when I found that in every respect the views I had advocated were correct. Every swivel and lever worked splendidly, and the undue straining that my friend had insisted must occur at corner points did not exist. There was absolutely no way of improving the mechanism that I could see.

We had passed the worst curve on the line and were now greatly increasing our speed. We were entering on the fastest bit of the journey, and things were getting lively for me. The pitching and rolling of a small boat in middling "choppy" weather were not to be compared to the motion I experienced. It was more like being violently "tossed in the blanket."

One jolt sent me flying upward, and I struck my head against the framework with such force that the blow nearly stunned me. At another time I was nearly rolled out beneath the wheels. I was compelled to hold on to the sides of the sacking for dear life, and my hands were battered considerably. To make matters worse, a giddiness and nausea were coming over me—a virtual seasickness—and I kept asking myself why I had been mad enough to embark on such a foolhardy undertaking.

Suddenly turning my eyes to one of the two supporting cords at the head of my hammock, I saw, with a feeling of extreme horror, that through friction with part of the radial axle frame it had been cut more than half through! I was hanging by a mere filament! If that broke, death was certain. I must either be thrown between the wheels of the carriage and frightfully mangled or dashed to pieces on the permanent way.

I immediately sought some means of escape from the doom that stared me in the face. I could find none. To hang on by the remaining cord at the head of the hammock was impossible, as directly the other was cut through there would be no support to my feet, which I could not place over the side of the sacking without their coming in contact with the mechanism of the coach. For the same reason I could not grasp any of the framework above, as the only parts on which I could lay hold were the levers, which were constantly moving from side to side and would infallibly crush my hands to pieces.

The cord was wearing thinner and thinner, and I knew that a few minutes must put an end to my existence. There was absolutely nothing to be done but await my fate, which I did, not with that calm composure that is supposed to mark the hero, but in unspeakable terror. My life was literally hanging on a thread, and I could only lie there trembling, in a cold sweat, watching until my fragile support should give way.

Suddenly the engine whistle gave a long scream, and I knew that the brake was being applied and that our speed was rapidly slackening. What could it mean? A distance signal must be against us. If only the train would come to a standstill, I could escape!

We were fast reducing our speed, and I was greatly excited with the hope that lay in this providential occurrence when another short whistle told me that the line was now clear. I felt the brake removed.

Now was the time or never! I knew that the train would not move any slower during the time that I could hope to continue in my position. We were going 15 to 20 miles an hour.

Whipping out my pocketknife, I reached up one hand and cut through the thin strand that supported one side of my hammock. At the same moment I closed my eyes and let myself go, directing all my efforts to the end that my fall should be in the center of the track. I was conscious of a fearful blow on the back of the head and remember on more until my senses returned.

When I opened my eyes, I was lying between the lines with no train in sight. I found that I had received a number of severe contusions, that my left shoulder was dislocated, and that I had sprained my right ankle. This seemed to be the extent of my injuries. In great pain I managed to limp to a cottage a few hundred yards from the line, where an agricultural laborer's wife was extremely kind and attentive. She sent her boy to fetch the local surgeon, who soon put my shoulder right and plastered and bandaged me all over. He then drove me to the nearest station, where I telegraphed the news of my safety, and awaited the next train back to New York.

When I reached town, a great many of the officials of the line were on the platform to condole with me on my accident and congratulate me on having escaped with my life. There had been great excitement and apprehension. When the train had arrived at Boston and it was seen that an accident had happened and that I was missing, a search for my body had been made along the whole line. My disappearance had been considered very mysterious.

My engineer friend, who had been extremely anxious about me, helped me into a carriage that he had in waiting to drive me to my home.

"How, in the name of heaven, did you escape with your life?" he asked as we drove out of the station.

"I'll tell you all about it when we get home," I replied; "but, first of all, I was right and you were wrong!"

"My dear fellow," he said laughingly, but in all sincerity, "I am extremely glad that you have at least that satisfaction out of the melancholy business. I congratulate you heartily."—Exchange.

A Reason For Indolence.

Our public school and university system of training consists, from its conception to its end, in one continued series of competitions among those whom it is training for practical life, and the most successful competitor is supposed to be the most promising man of the future. But the triumphs thus obtained on the threshold of practical life are not infrequently purchased by a strain on the power of adolescent manhood, to be followed by a period of lassitude and indifference when the real work of the world begins.

A story is current that in early life one of the ablest and most vigorous of modern statesmen was reproached by a relation for his apparently inexplicable indolence, and he retorted, "I am storing energy."—Quarterly Review.

Where the Dregs Is.

A stranger in New York city was being shown the sights by a resident friend. They had been putting in about 21 hours a day at it for a week, and the last day but one had arrived.

"By the way," remarked the visitor, "I've done this town pretty thoroughly, but before I leave I want to see the most dangerous locality in it and go through it."

"You've been," replied the resident. "I guess not."

"Yes. Two or three times."

"Why, I didn't know it. Why didn't you tell me?"

"I never thought of it."

"Where is it?"

"Wall street."—Detroit Free Press.

Pierce Guarantees a Cure.

Kemper, N. C.

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—When about three years old I was taken with mumps, also had fever, finally I had that dreaded disease Scrofula. The most eminent physicians in this section treated me to no avail. I had running scrofulous sores on left side of neck and face. I was small and weakly when eight or nine years old, and in fact was nearly a skeleton. Six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery wrought marvelous changes. Although the sores were healed in eight months, I did not quit taking it until I was sure it had been entirely rooted from my system. The only signs left of the dreadful disease are the scars which ever remind me of how near death's door I was until rescued by the "Discovery." I am now eighteen years old and weigh 148 pounds; and have not been sick in two years.

Yours respectfully,
HARVEY M. HOLLEMAN.

Y. M. C. A. MASS MEETING

Thirtieth Anniversary of the Organization of the Y. M. C. A. to Be Fittingly Celebrated.

The thirtieth anniversary of the organization of the Young Men's Christian Association will be celebrated, Sunday evening, in a mass meeting at the First Congregational Church, in which the Baptist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches will unite. A large chorus choir and the Y. M. C. A. orchestra will furnish the music. Addresses will be made by Rev. Chas. Beattie, D. D., Mr. H. B. Woodward and Secretary H. B. Hawkins.

The organization now has nearly a half million members, and is represented in almost every country of the globe. It is a grand work for young men, and a strong auxiliary, a support to the church. Middletown could not well do without the work here, which is worthy of the interest and support of all our citizens.

Voluntarily Reduced His Own Salary.

It isn't every minister who will do as did Rev. J. Marsland, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Susquehanna, Pa., who, on Sunday last, announced from his pulpit that in view of the hard times he would reduce his salary to the extent of $100, this year.

ON LABOR'S WHEEL.

Paine's Celery Compound Now Better Than a Vacation Later.

"I simply can't stop," says the tired business man and the worn-out mother.

"But nervous prostration stares you in the face."

"I dare not think of being sick. My children and babies and husband depend on me every hour in the day," reply those women on the verge of breaking down. "A month's absence would ruin my business," says the hardworked business man.

When the nerves and organs of the body are soundly nourished and the waste products quickly got rid of, a tremendous amount of hard work can be done without injury. It is when the nervous tissues are used up faster than they are repaired that brain, nerves, and vital organs suffer, cry out with neuralgia, rheumatism, heart trouble, nervous dyspepsia, and finally break down. Paine's celery compound is doing a world of good for such weak, nervous people, whose brain and body are overtaxed, but who may yet be saved from nervous prostration and diseases of the liver, kidneys and stomach by this great strength-giver and blood and nerve invigorator.

The first bottle of Paine's celery compound begins at once to clear the impure blood, to supply material for growth to worn-out nerves and to the millions of tiny cells of nervous substance through the brain and spinal column. This marvelous blood and nerve remedy lays the foundation for health, deeply and permanently; thin, pale, careworn persons grow steadily heavier and stronger, and their faces lose the signs of sickness and despondency.

To counteract the effects of protracted bodily and mental strain, Paine's celery compound was first prepared by the eminent Dartmouth Professor Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL D. Physicians of the highest standing use and prescribe it to give strength to weak mothers and to supply abundant nutrition to the rapidly growing nerves and tissues of children.

New, highly vitalized blood, pure and rich in elements of growth, is sent through the entire substance of the liver, kidneys and stomach and rouses them to brisker action, removes biliousness, jaundice and indigestion, and thoroughly purifies the system of harmful, poisonous matters that cause disease. The nerves are rapidly built up and work again without confusion- thus bringing all the important organs into harmony and health. Paine's celery compound offers years of happy, healthy existence to thousands of men and women whose poverty of blood and nerves is the sole cause of despondency and despair of ever being well and strong again.

With new blood and refreshed nerves a confident feeling of returning health comes also. Paine's celery compound makes people well.

Nathan W. Kennedy, editor of the well known Putnam, Conn., Standard, and President of the Connecticut Editorial Association, writes:

"On this, my thirty-third birthday, it becomes a pleasure to speak of the merits of Paine's celery compound, for on several preceding anniversaries the pangs of dyspepsia have prevented what would otherwise have been a most felicitous occasion. To-day everything is cheerful and bright and this excellent medicine receives its just share of praise.

"After trying various 'panaceas' I took Paine's celery compound, and in due time discovered that I was being greatly benefited. Sleep grew refreshing, my nervous system more normal, my appetite sharper, and general make-up better prepared for the cares of business and the enjoyment of life.

"Not alone have I found the compound effective in the treatment of cases of dyspepsia, but also for nervousness, thereby making it unexcelled in the treatment of nervous dyspepsia.

"Several aged persons to my personal knowledge have been materially benefitted by Paine's celery compound. It creates appetite and strength, and soothes the weary, overworked body and mind into a natural refreshing sleep."

Here Come Gatlings.

London, June 2.—Hiram Maxim's bullet proof cuirass was tested at the Edinburgh gun works yesterday. Shots from army rifles were first fired at a steel target half an inch thick, the bullets piercing it through. Shots from similar cartridges were then fired at the cuirass with the effect of making only a slight indentation. The cuirass is composed of a plain plate of steel encased in felt and is only half the thickness of Herr Dowe's cuirass.

Appeal Against Ainsworth's Acquittal.

Washington, June 2.—District Attorney Birney yesterday filed an appeal from Judge Miller's decision quashing the indictment against Colonel Ainsworth for his connection with the Ford's theater horror. Appeals in criminal cases are rare, and the present appeal is indicative of Mr Birney's desire to secure a trial under an indictment that would render conviction possible.

Corbett Wants to Fight in Florida.

New York, June 2.—Latest reports state that Jim Corbett has declined the offer of the National Sporting club, of England, and that the fight with Peter Jackson will be held in America. George Welty, of New York, has received a telegram from Corbett to this effect, and that he had decided to accept the $15,000 purse offered by the Jacksonville Athletic club, of Florida.

Strikers Tried to Blow Up a Bridge.

Charleston, W. Va., June 2.—News reached here of an attempt of strikers to blow up by dynamite the Toledo and Ohio railroad bridge at Carnelton, just above here. The men at this mine went to work in full yesterday, and an attempt was made to keep the railroad from hauling coal. The bridge was only damaged slightly.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

Tuesday, June 12th,

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctor will visit Middletown one day each month. Office hours from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

OSTERHOUT INDICTED FOR MURDER

Working Up an Insanity Dodge—Asks for a Minister of the Gospel and Six Christian Gentlemen—Relates to Them a Crazy Dream.

The Sullivan County Grand Jury, yesterday, found an indictment against Hiram Osterhout, for murder in the first degree, in causing the deaths of Jacob Moore and Jane Raymond at Bushville on Feb. 22nd.

When arraigned he pleaded not guilty and was remanded to jail. He will probably be tried at the October Oyer and Terminer.

Osterhout knew that the Grand Jury was at work on his case, and before he learned the result of its deliberations he was very nervous and very much depressed. Just before noon, yesterday, he announced to Sheriff Beecher and District Attorney Hill that he wanted a minister and six christian gentlemen to come and see him.

The Port Jervis Gazette says that they selected Rev. Mr. Phillips, of the M. E. Church, Monticello, and the foreman of the Grand Jury, Benjamin Vernooy, J. G. Newkirk, Thaddeous Herd, O. E. Groo, and Emund Fisk; and repaired to his cell in expectancy of receiving his confession. Instead he gave them a verbatim statement as follows:

"Three or four years ago, I had the typhoid fever, and I dreamed that I died and went to Heaven. I never told anything about it except to two men; one of them was McMillen who lives near me.

"Well, I was put in the cell here and lay down on the bed, to-day. Here after I got on the bed, I got into a doze, and I dreamed that I went up to heaven again, but I dreamed there was false reports about me; that men had told that I was at work digging out of the jail.

"When I was up in Heaven in that dream the Lord told me that I must get a minister and some men and tell them that there was some false reports going on about.

"This suit was rejourned and I am just a innocent as these men be. I never meant to dig out of jail."

This ended his confession. It is the general opinion that Osterhout is guilty, and it is thought by some that he is working up an insanity dodge.

LIZZIE HALLIDAY ARRAIGNED.

A Special Term of the Circuit Court to Be Held for Her Trial.

Mrs. Halliday was brought into court at Monticello, last evening, and arraigned before Judge Edwards. She had gone to bed when she was summoned, but quickly dressed and appeared. She is much thinner and paler than she was when first arrested. During most of the time she was in the court room she held her head down, but would occasionally look up and smile at some friendly face.

Judge Edwards ordered a special term of Circuit Court to be held in Monticello, beginning June 18, and an extra panel of 198 jurors was drawn to serve at the coming trial.

DID NOT STEAL THE HORSE.

Charles Lewis Discharged by the Recorder—The Complainant Takes the Law in His Own Hands and Is Fined $10 for Assault.

Charles Lewis, the colored man who was arrested, yesterday, on a charge of stealing a horse belonging to a Goshen gentleman, was given an examination in the afternoon, which resulted in his discharge. He was sent for the horse and returned to the hotel with it. A man from Mt. Eve, who had been in company with the Goshen man, had ordered a rig from Liveryman Murphy, and as Lewis drove up, the Mt. Eve man stepped out of the hotel, and, making some remark about its being "all right," ordered Lewis to drive him to Mt. Eve, which he did, returning yesterday morning.

He had no explanation to offer, however, for having run away from the officer.

The Goshen man was not satisfied with the turn the affair had taken, and, later in the day, he met Lewis and proceeded to administer a severe thrashing to the negro. The latter went at once to Police Court, procured a warrant, and the Goshen man was fined $10 for the assault.

A Very Pleasant Social Event.

Mrs. A. J. Henderson gave a party, last evening, to a number of her friends in honor of Miss Annie Allison and Miss Lillie Still, of Brooklyn, who are visiting her. About twenty couples were present. Progressive euchre and dancing were the amusements of the evening. Miss Annie Morgan and Mr. W. H. Rogers were the winners of the first prizes at euchre, while the consolation prizes were awarded to Miss Mamie O'Connor and Mr. F. M. Vogeler.

The G. I. Edwards Combination furnished the music for dancing.

Base Ball Notes.

—The Murray Hill Base Ball Club arrived on Erie train 1, to-day.

—The New Yorks are after Van Zant, the clever Staten Island pitcher, who has been suggested as a valuable man for the Asylums to secure.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

Mr. Daniel H. Eaton, of Wawayanda, Found Unconscious on the N. Y., S. and W. Track.

Mr. Daniel H. Eaton, one of the best known and most highly respected of the residents of Wawayanda, was found unconscious on the N. Y., S. and W. tracks, at Eaton Station, about 10 o'clock, yesterday. He had started across the tracks to look after some young cattle and was taken suddenly ill and sat down on the end of a tie, and in a few minutes became unconscious.

He was taken to his home and a physician summoned, who found that he was suffering from paralysis, his entire left side being paralyzed.

Mr. Eaton regained consciousness, last evening, and, this morning, was much better, being able to talk and move his fingers, and it is now believed will recover, although his age is somewhat against him.

This is the second stroke suffered by Mr. Eaton, the first one being about a year ago, when he was suddenly stricken and fell from a load of feed.

OBITUARY.

Sidney L. Mapes.

Sidney L. Mapes, of Port Jervis, died at his home on Orange street, Friday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock, of brain trouble. He was receiving teller of the Port Jervis Bank, and six weeks ago was taken ill and for four weeks was a great sufferer. Death was caused by the bursting of a blood vessel in the brain.

Mr. Mapes was born at Muscatine, Iowa, June 15, 1858. His parents were David S. Mapes and Charlotte Newman, Orange county people, who removed to Iowa and returned to Port Jervis in 1868. The deceased was educated in the Port Jervis public schools and graduated in 1874 and entered, the same year, in the service of the bank, where he was employed until death.

He was married Dec. 2, 1886, to Mary L. West, of Brooklyn. Mr. Mapes was one of the most active and useful members of the Reformed Church, and was identified with the various organizations for Christian work in Port Jervis, and at various times was either superintendent or president of some of these. He is survived by his parents and one sister, Edith, who resides in Matamoras, Pa., and wife and four children.

Funeral Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late residence.

August Hey.

Mr. August Hey, a well known farmer residing in the town of Wallkill, near Sayer's Hill, died at 12:30 o'clock, this morning, in his fifty-ninth year.

Mr. Hey was born in Germany and emigrated to this country when seventeen years old, and resided in Brooklyn until sixteen years ago when he bought the farm on which he made his home until his death.

Mr. Hey is survived by his wife and three children,—Mrs. L. B. G. Going, of Brooklyn, Miss Gussie at home and Theodore, of this city.

The funeral will be held at his late residence on Monday at 10 a. m. The interment will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

CARRIER KEELER'S APPEAL DECIDED

The Post Office Department Sustains Postmaster Elwood's Action.

First Assistant Postmaster General Jones, who has charge of the free delivery service, in the matter of the application for reinstatement made by Carrier David H. Keeler, who was removed by Postmaster Elwood, has decided that the interests of the service will not warrant his reinstatement. This is, of course, a complete justification of Postmaster Elwood's action.

There is, we understand, some talk of an appeal to some one or something higher, but this will come to nothing. The Postmaster General would stand by the ruling of his assistant and an appeal to the courts would be useless for, it will be remembered, that not long ago, in the case of a Republican clerk bounced from the Treasury Department, who asked for a mandamus to compel his reinstatement, the court held that it could not interfere with the conduct of any of the executive departments, and the same ruling would prevail in the Keeler case.

LAX MORALS IN DELAWARE COUNTY

A Community Badly in Need of Missionary Effort

A Walton minister was summoned, Saturday, to Toll City, a half civilized community near that village, to perform a marriage ceremony. He found that the prospective bride was only fifteen years old and refused to marry her, whereupon the couple dispensed with the formality of a marriage service and went to the would-be bridegroom's home. A few days' experience satisfied the pair that they were not well mated and the girl returned to her parents' home. They refused to receive her and she then went to her first husband, to whom she had been married when only thirteen years old, but from whom she had separated. Although the husband knew of the second experiment in matrimony, he did not allow such a trifle to make any difference and at last accounts they were living together in apparent amity.

Rehearsals for the Musical Festival, Next Week—Other Local and Personal Notes—An Assortment in Embryo—Memorial Decoration.

From a special correspondent.

—There will be rehearsals of The Seasons and The Messiah, with soloists and full orchestra, at Music Hall, on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, at 2 o'clock.

—St. James's Church has received a thorough cleaning, this week, under the superintendence of the ladies of the Guild.

—Mrs. Samuel L. Casey, of Kansas City, is the guest of Mrs. Galen Murray, at her home in this village.

—Mr. Percy Wisner and family, of New York, are occupying the Wisner cottage on South street.

—Mr. C. M. Vail and family have returned to their summer home, in this village.

—Either children are uncommonly like grown people in some of their ways, or else "grown ups" are very like children. A very small child of the writer's acquaintance, not long since, calmly announced that she did not like God, and upon being questioned by her horrified parents as to her reasons, replied that it was because he let her doll get "bruised." That infant was only giving voice to a sentiment that a great many "children of a larger growth" have experienced at times. As long as things go smoothly with us, we are apt not only to be "at peace with all mankind and some of the women," but to have a kindly feeling toward Providence as well; but if our doll gets "bruised" we can not help thinking that we are not being treated with quite the consideration that our great merits deserve. We see other people's dolls looking whole and prosperous and, viewing our own poor shattered puppet, a certain amount of bitterness creeps into our hearts and we cannot see why misfortune should fall upon us rather than our neighbors. It seems hard, however, that the minds of babes and sucklings should be harassed by doubts of the wisdom and justice of the Lord's ways.

—One of the local papers condemns with well deserved severity the theft of flowers from a grave in one of our cemeteries, recently. What an incongruity such a theft seems to be. It appears impossible that any one who loves flowers could be capable of taking them from a newly made grave, where they had but just been laid by loving hands—a last link between a warm living heart and the cold pulseless one, under the sod. Even the heathens were wont to respect the dead.

PROBABLE MURDER AT ROCK TAVERN

A Man Found on the Roadside With His Skull Crushed.

The Montgomery Standard publishes the following account of what is believed to have been a murder near Maybrook Junction:

Thursday morning, as the men employed by Mr C. H. C. Beakes, creameryman, near Rock Tavern, went to the barn, they discovered a team of mules and a wagon standing by the barn door. They recognized the team and naturally wondered what had become of the driver, one Stock, who had driven the team.

Upon investigation his body was found in the rock cut, a short distance away. It was thought that he had fallen from his wagon as he was returning from Newburgh, where he had delivered a load of milk, but as the wagon had a top on, it would make that almost impossible. It is believed the man was murdered, as on the wagon seat the unfortunate man's brains and a part of his skull were found. There were also locks of hair lying around. It is supposed that when he was passing through the cut some one hit him with a stone and killed him instantly, for there were no signs of a struggle. As to accounting for his body laying along the road so great a while, but it is supposed they robbed him after doing the terrible deed, and threw him by the roadside, with the idea no doubt, that people would think that he fell from the wagon.

Opening Picnic at Manneschor Park.

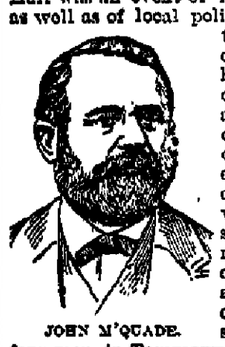
CROKER'S SUCCESSOR

CANDIDATES FOR THE LEADERSHIP OF TAMMANY HALL.

Something About the Four Prominent Schemes Who Think Their Heads Would Fit the Retiring Chieftain's Crown—McQuade, Gilroy, Purroy and Martin.

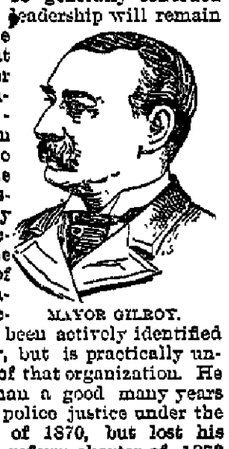
The recent retirement of Richard Croker from the leadership of Tammany Hall was an event of national interest as well as of local political importance to New York city. Mr. Croker has long exercised an almost absolute control over the policies of the most powerful political club in the world, and his sudden retirement naturally causes considerable speculation concerning his successor. To four men in Tammany Hall the situation is full of potential possibilities. They are John McQuade, chairman of Tammany's finance committee; Mayor Gilroy, County Clerk Henry D. Purroy and Police Commissioner James J. Martin, each one of whom hopes in his heart of hearts that the mantle of the retiring chieftain may fall upon his own shoulders.



JOHN M'QUADE.

It is not surprising that there should be eager competition for the leadership. The place vacated by Croker carries with it the chairmanship of the finance committee of Tammany Hall, a fiduciary position without an equal in the civilized world. The holder of it is the custodian of funds aggregating millions, of which he keeps no accounts whatever, and for which he is responsible to no one. To a man who loves political power, too, the position is eminently desirable.

It seems to be generally conceded that the actual leadership will remain vacant for the present, or at least until after the fall campaign. Meanwhile Mr. John McQuade, who has for some years been treasurer of Tammany Hall, has succeeded to the chairmanship of the finance committee. McQuade has long been actively identified with Tammany, but is practically unknown outside of that organization. He was an alderman a good many years ago and was a police justice under the Tweed charter of 1870, but lost his place when the reform charter of 1873 was enacted. Since then he has been a contractor and has made a fortune out of city work. He now lives in handsome style at 1338 Lexington avenue.



MAYOR GILROY.

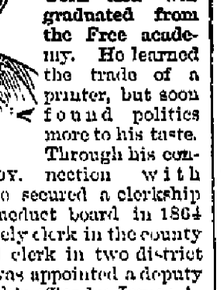
The friends of Thomas F. Gilroy assume to believe that McQuade is merely acting as a figurehead for the mayor and will quietly step down and out of the finance chairmanship when the latter's term of office shall expire on Jan. 1. The mayor stands high in the councils of Tammany, and his present prospects of promotion seem to be very promising.

Thomas F. Gilroy was born in Ireland June 3, 1840. He came to this country with his mother when 6 years old. He attended the public schools of New York and was graduated from the Free academy. He learned the trade of a printer, but soon found politics more to his taste. Through his connection with Tammany Hall he secured a clerkship in the Croton aqueduct board in 1864 and was successively clerk in the county clerk's office and clerk in two district civil courts. He was appointed a deputy in the county clerk's office by James A. Flack in 1884, and upon the election of Flack to the office of sheriff he was made under sheriff. He held this position until appointed commissioner of public works by Mayor Grant in 1889. He was elected mayor in 1892 by the largest majority ever received by a Tammany candidate. Mayor Gilroy has a handsome wife and 10 children. He gets a salary of $10,000 a year.

HENRY D. PURROY.

County Clerk Henry D. Purroy has long been a leader of Tammany Hall and is perfectly willing to succeed to the position of paramount chief. He is 46 years old and a lawyer, but has practiced more politics than law. He stood very close to John Kelly in the old days and served a good many years in the board of aldermen. Mayor Grace appointed him president of the board of fire commissioners, and he left Tammany Hall and attached himself to the Grace faction. A few years ago he returned to Tammany with a large personal following and was rewarded with the county clerkship.

James J. Martin, president of the police board, is another of those who hope to succeed Mr. Croker. He has enjoyed confidential relations with the late John Kelly and has been a member of Tammany Hall and a city official nearly all his life. He was born in Ireland in 1846. He is very comfortably situated and draws a salary of $5,000 a year.



JAMES J. MARTIN.

The Great Paris Library.

M. Marchal, the assistant librarian of the Bibliotheque Nationale at Paris, has finished the general inventory of that library, on which he has been at work with a large staff of assistants, since 1875. The figures given out thus far show that the National library of France contains 2,150,000 volumes. This number does not include the collection of French provincial newspapers, which is still in an unbound form and could therefore not be counted among the volumes.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Herds of Elephants.

Sir Gerald Portal says that between the coast and Uganda the supply of elephant tusks in Africa is "apparently almost inexhaustible." Enormous numbers of elephants are in the country still. One of the officers of his expedition, while exploring the country west of Mongo, saw more than 300 in one herd.

The history of gardening from the most ancient days is likely to be illustrated at Versailles during the great Paris exhibition of 1900. There is plenty of space in the grounds, while the lakes would give ample scope for the display of floating gardens such as the Aztecs and the Chinese loved to arrange.

There is a ripe side to the orange as well as to the peach. The stem half of the orange is usually not so sweet and juicy as the other half, not because it receives less sunshine, but possibly because the juice gravitates to the lower half, as the orange commonly hangs below its stem.

The net debt of New York city is $100,762,407. Chicago's debt is $18,000,000; Philadelphia's $22,000,000, Boston's $30,000,000. New Orleans' $16,000,000, Cincinnati's $26,000,000, Baltimore's $16,000,000, Washington's $20,000,000 and Brooklyn's $47,000,000.

Wild tobacco has been found growing in Texas, and it is claimed that for delicacy of perfume and strength of leaf the plant is not surpassed by the real Havana.

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,

He Was Up.

Traveling in a second class carriage, a gentleman had a small misunderstanding with a lady in reference to the opening of a window. 'You don't appear to know the difference between second and third class," the lady said cuttingly.

"Oh, madam" he replied, 'I am an old railway traveler. I know all the class distinctions. In the first class the passengers behave rudely to the guard In the third the guards behave rudely to the passengers; in the second"—with a bow to his fellow passenger—"the passengers behave rudely to each other "—Tit-Bits.

The Man Who Knows It All.

He bears within his massive girth the meat and essence of all worth. The stars round him revolve, the sky rests on his mighty shoulders high And so he walks, erect and grand, the solar system in his hand, and matched with him the sun looks small, the mighty man who knows it all!

Then let the sun go out at noon and throw a towel o er the moon, and let the stars remote and high drop, like loose buttons, from the sky and send to Night's Plutonean shores your selectmen and sophomores, but spare him for the good of all, the mighty man who knows it all!

Ah, when he dies, will wisdom die, the sun of knowledge leave our sky, and we ll be left in dark and doubt, like Moses when the light went out! Oh leave us not in darkness blind thou luminary of mankind, through dark blind ways to grope and fall, oh, wondrous man who knows it all!

Give to the vulture and the shark your statesmen and your men of mark; give to the beasts who know no pity the members of your school committee Let bear and lion do their work upon your learned city clerk. Spare not the mighty and obese and portly justice of the peace, but save, oh, save we humbly call, the wondrous man who knows it all!

With him all truth, all lore begins; omniscience and this man are twins. All wisdom's watermains outspread from the main cistern of his head, and should this mighty cistern burst then all the schools would die of thirst. So spare, kind fate, we humbly call, this wondrous man who knows it all!—New York World.

Winning a Case.

Mr. Sergeant Wilkins once defended a breach of promise case for a singularly ugly little man which he told the defendant, after reading his brief, must be "bounced" through. And the sergeant did bounce it through in a truly remarkable manner. "Gentlemen of the jury," he said at the close of a most eloquent speech, "you have heard the evidence for the plaintiff and, gentlemen of the jury, you have seen and have admired that most bewitching plaintiff herself. Gentlemen, do you believe that this enchanting, this fascinating this captivating, this accomplished Lady would for one moment favor the advances or listen with anything save scorn and indignation to the amorous protestations of the wretched and repulsive homunculus, the deformed and degraded defendant?"

His client looked up from the well of the court and piteously murmured. 'Mr. Sergeant Wilkins! Oh, Mr Sergeant Wilkins!"

'Silence sir replied the sergeant in a wrathful undert ne 'Gentlemen," he continued, bringing his fist down heavily on the desk before him, "do you think that this lovely lady, this fair and smiling creature, would ever have permitted an offer of marriage to be made to her by this miserable atom of humanity, this stunted creature, who would have to stand on a sheet of note paper to look over twopence?"

The jury at once gave a verdict for the defendant.—Argonaut

Too Practical.

"No, Herbert," she said in a low tone; "it is impossible. I fear to trust my future with you "

"And why?"

"I have watched your conduct closely. It lacks the mark of such devotion as my soul craves.'

'Do I not come to see you four nights in the week?'

"Yes. But I have detected a calculating selfishness in your nature, which I fear"

"What do you mean"

"You have never yet failed to leave in time to catch the last car."

"But that s only common sense."

"I know it is, Herbert, and therefore it is not love —Washington Star.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons interested, that Tuesday, June 12th, 1894, at 8 p m., and the chambers of the Common Council, on Foundry street, Middletown, N Y, be and are hereby designated as the time and place when and where the application of the Middletown Goshen Traction Company to the Common Council of the city of Middletown N Y will first be considered for consent and permission of said Common Council, for the construction, maintenance, operation and extension by the said petitioners of a street Surface Railroad, in the manner and form as provided by law, through the following additional streets, to wit

Beginning at the intersection of Academy avenue and Benton avenue, thence southeasterly through along and upon Benton avenue to a street extending on the northerly side of Sigs Park (so called) said street being an extension from Sprague avenue, connecting Sprague avenue and Benton avenue thence through, along and upon the said street to Sprague avenue connecting the Academy avenue line with the Sprague avenue line of the said railroad company.

Also beginning on Lake avenue at the intersection of Hanford street, through, along and upon Hanford street, from Lake avenue to Knapp avenue, thence through, along and upon Knapp avenue to Chestnut street thence through along and upon Chestnut street to a street proposed to be opened from Chestnut street as follows to wit.

Said street beginning at an iron rod driven in the ground on the westerly line of Chestnut street as now laid out and rod being 50 feet measured along said westerly line of Chestnut street from the point of intersection of the westerly line of Chestnut street with the easterly line of Bolmch street, as now laid out, and measured from thence S 73 degrees W 251 68 ft. crossing Bonnell street to the westerly right of way line of the N. Y., L. E and W. R. R. and over the said railroad Said street being 50 feet in width and 25 feet on each side of the above described centre line extending from the westerly line of Chestnut street to the westerly right of way line of the N. Y., L. E and W. R. R. and connecting Chestnut street with Cornelia street, as now laid out

Thence through, along, and upon the last described route or highway, as now laid out or to be laid out, to said Cornelia street, thence through, along and upon Cornelia street, as now laid out or to be laid out, to Mechanics avenue, connecting the Lake avenue with the Mechanics avenue lines of said company; and also to construct such switches and turnouts as may be convenient for the working of such road, to erect the necessary poles and string the wires through, along and upon said named streets and avenues.

By order of the Common Council.

"Royal Ruby" Port Wine.

If you are reduced in vitality or strength by illness or any other cause, we recommend the use of this Old Port Wine, the very blood of the grape. A grand tonic for nursing mothers, and those reduced by wasting disease. It creates strength, improves the appetite; nature's own remedy, much preferable to drugs; guaranteed absolutely pure and over five years of age. Young wine ordinarily sold is not fit to use. Insist on having this standard brand, it costs no more $1 in quart bottles, Pints 60 cts. Royal Wine Co. For sale by

AN "ARGUS" MAN OFF DUTY AIMS AT SEVERAL SUBJECTS.

Time to Turn Off the Water—A New Cure for Rheumatism—Effects of Travel on the Electric Cars—Too Grotesque for Funeral Processions—The Rainy, Chilly Month of June.

The Gazette says that a little Elmira girl ran into the house, the other day,—one of those ceaseless rainy days—and going up to her mother said: "Mamma, let's ask God to turn the water off."

The latest argument in favor of the electric road is that riding on the cars is a cure for rheumatism. One lady who has experienced benefit from the electricity absorbed while upon the cars, does not hesitate to acknowledge it, and a few days ago entered the office of the company and, throwing down a dollar, said: "I want a book. I have had a few rides on the electric cars and I find that I have had more relief from my rheumatism than I have received from all the medicine I have taken in the past three years. I want a book and I'll ride as often as I can find time to do so. It's cheaper than medicine."

If it should prove that riding on electric cars cures rheumatism, the advent of the electric railway in Middletown will be a greater benefaction than its most ardent admirers, who viewed it from a business standpoint, ever hoped for, and even President Hock, of Goshen, may be expected to yield to the importunities of the rheumatics residing at the county seat, and allow the road to enter that village for humanitarian reasons. This will be an easy way for Mr. Hock to let himself down and we trust that the benefits of electricity in the cure of rheumatism may be understood as early as possible and that all cures will be promptly reported.

***

Some of the undertakers in this town ought to take a "tumble" as the boys say and stop the livery men from sending out boys of twelve to fifteen years of age as drivers of carriages in funeral processions, or if boys are sent out, they should not be required to wear silk hats. A kid with a tall hat on is rather a ludicrous object to look upon and is out of place in a funeral procession.

***

May is sung in song and praised in verse as a month of smiling skies, bright sunshine and balmy breezes, but in reality it is one of the rainiest months of the year, and its baminess is a delusion and a snare, for although we usually have a few warm days, they only serve to make more noticeable the raw and chilly days that make the glad summer time, for which we all long, seem very far away. The records of the Weather Bureau show that the average rainfall for May in Eastern New York is nearly five inches. The total rainfall for the year is about forty-one inches, and it never varies much from that one way or the other. The average per month is, therefore, 3 50 inches, so that May comes in for an inch and a half more of rain than would fall to its share if the year's rainfall was distributed evenly over the year. An inch and a half doesn't seem very large when you see it in print, but when you take it in rain drops it "means a lot."

The Advance Guard of the Seventeen Year Locusts.

From the Montgomery Reporter.

The much heralded and greatly dreaded seventeen-year locusts have arrived in this locality at last, being visible in large numbers along the banks of the Wallkill in the vicinity of Bodine's Bridge, where they are clustered by thousands on the bushes along the streams. The first to discover them to our knowledge was Jim Babcock, who, Tuesday, was fishing just below the bridge and found them to be present in great numbers. He picked a small twig and brought to town, upon which we e clustered fifteen of the little pests.

A CORONER'S SOFT SNAP.

Ten Sessions of an Inquest in a Newburgh shooting Case—A Big Bill for the County.

After ten sessions of the coroner's jury in the case of Frank L. Henderson, the Newburgh grocer who was shot in his store where he surprised a burglar, this verdict was reached, yesterday:

We, the jury, believe that Frank L. Henderson came to his death by two pistol shot wounds in the neck from a pistol in the hands of Homer Lockwood Sarvis, and that Thomas Vaughn, alias "Tucker" Vaughn, John O'Neil, alias "Newburgh Jack," John Gregory and Martin Ryan were accessory to the fact.

The inquest was held in secret and the records will not be made public for the reason that about twenty witnesses testified, and all fear that their lives would be forfeited if the gang to which Sarvis belongs should learn their names and the nature of their evidence.

The inquest will cost the county a pretty penny—probably two or three hundred dollars,—and Homer Sarvis, who is alleged to have done the shooting, is still at large.

OVER THE SHAWANGUNKS.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS IN SULLIVAN COUNTY ARE DOING.

All the News from All Parts of the County—Many Matters of Interest Condensed from Our Sullivan Exchanges and Contributed by Wide-Awake Correspondents.

—Larry McGrath has sold his hotel property near the Liberty depot to B. A. Wolff for $6,000.

—The Rockland Mutual Insurance Company, which began business a few months ago, has issued policies to the amount of over $100,000, a gain of $50,000, during the month.

—The stone crusher bought by citizens of Liberty to provide material for the streets of that village arrived there, Tuesday. It weighs 10,000 pounds and is capable of crushing eighty tons of stone in ten hours, if run to its full capacity.

—David Maxey, of the firm of Maxey Bros., New York undertakers, has purchased the Pine pr perty at Pleasant Lake, and is remodeling the dwelling and making other improvements.

—Kenneth D. L. Niven, Monticello's new postmaster, has leased the large storeroom in the Watchman building and will move the office there as soon as the new boxes, which he has ordered, can be put in position.

—The Callicoon Agricultural Mutual Fire Relief Association, which was organized in 1878, had, on Dec. 31, 1893, 943 members and its policies in force amounted to $1,213,177. The losses paid since the organization of the company amount to $11,058. The association has most of the farm risks in the towns of Callicoon, Fremont and Delaware, and—a large number in the towns of Rockland, Liberty, Bethel, Cochecton, and Tusten, and several in Thompson. The cost of insurance to members of the association has been very much less than it would have been in the stock companies.

—Some one told Constable Middaugh, of Monticello, that a prize fight was in progress in the engine house a few nights ago. Anxious to make a record for himself he raided the building, smashing in the door and making his way into the room, which had recently been fitted up as a gymnasium, he found some members of the company engaged in a boxing bout. The fireman no sooner saw the constable than they turned on him and bundled him into the street in anything but a gentle manner.

—The Rockland correspondent of the Enesign says that a New York man, a guest at the Bramkill House, caught a three-and-a-quarter pound trout in the Willowemoc, Monday.

—The statement that no deaths from natural causes have occured in Livingston Manor in over twelve months will surprise a good many. The last death was that of Mrs. Fred Nitchke, in May, 1893. Three violent deaths have occurred in the village in that time, Baggagemaster Regan, a child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and Riley Brown. William Cook, of this village, was killed at Roscoe during this time.—Ensign.

Wants to Know Who His Namesake Is.

"Doug" Chesebrough, formerly one of the Wallkill Base Ball Club's crack pitchers, who now resides in Aspen, Colorado, has written to a friend in this city, inquiring "who is the Chesboro" who is now pitching for the Asylums. He read an account of the Asylum-Walden game in the MERCURY, and wants to know something of the man, who has a name similar to his.

Universalist Meeting.

Rev. J. D. Corby, of Troy, will preach in the interest of Universalism, at the Assembly Rooms, Tuesday, June 5, at 8 p. m. All are invited.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Mystic Cure" for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in one to three days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause, and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. Seventy-five cents. Sold by J. E. Mills, druggist, Middletown.

OFFENSIVE AND INJURIOUS.

The Anti-Tobacco Crank Proves His Case and Is Acquitted.

The tobacco crank, Frank Parmalee, who was arrested for knocking a cigar from the mouth of a resident of Port Jervis, was tried before Justice Conkling and a jury, yesterday, and was acquitted. He conducted his own defence, which in substance was that the smoke was "offensive to his taste and deleterious to his health," and called as witnesses Prof. Dolph and Health Officer Skinner to prove the detrimental effect of tobacco.

Bad Weather for Corn-Grubs and Cut Worms at Work—Few Potato Beetles —An Off Year—An Appropriate Emblem—Money Lost.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—The unsettled state of the weather has hindered some farmers in planting their corn. Those who have planted their cornfields find the ground is still cold and wet, and that the sprouts look puny and dwarfish.

—Many farmers are complaining that the black grub or cut worm is making sad havoc in cutting off the tender corn just in the beginning of its growth. Cool and wet weather favors the ravages of these pests.

—The potato bug seems to be behind hand in getting in its work, this year. I have seen but very few beetles this year. It is to be hoped that after its twentieth year the pest will cease to annoy the potato raisers.

—This is the off year for the apple crop, financial speculators, big wages, strictly honest men and marriages.

—C. D. Wood, who has charge of the erection of the building styled the "Crescent Steel Letter Type Factory," in Slate Hill, the other day, placed at the gable end of the building an appropriate emblem, a large sized crescent.

—A few days ago, as Kinney Skinner, who is engaged in selling sewing machines, was on the road in the vicinity of Denton, he lost from his pocket $30 in bills and a note for $10. It is hoped that the finder is an honest person and will return the money to the owner.

—Clark & Brown, merchants at Slate Hill, lost a good horse from some inflammatory disorder, a few days ago.

A Montgomery Man Killed in Chicago

The family of Mr. Ed. Luquer, of Montgomery, on Thursday evening received a dispatch stating that he had been killed in Chicago, and asking for information as to the disposition of the body. No particulars were given. The young man had been employed by the Reid Ice Cream Company in Chicago for the past year.

What is Eczema?

It is an agony of agonies.

A torture of tortures.

It is an itching and burning of the skin almost beyond endurance.

It is thousands of pin-headed vesicles filled with an acrid fluid, ever forming, ever bursting, ever flowing upon the raw excoriated skin.

No part of the human skin is exempt.

It tortures, disfigures and humiliates more than all other skin diseases combined.

Tender babies are among its most numerous victims.

They are often born with it.

Sleep and rest are out of the question.

Most remedies and the best physicians generally fail, even to relieve.

If CUTICURA did no more than cure Eczema, it would be entitled to the gratitude of mankind.

It not only cures but

A single application is often sufficient to afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure.

CUTICURA works wonders because it is the most wonderful skin cure of modern times.

Sold throughout the world Price, CUTICURA, 50c., SOAP, 25c., RESOLVENT, $1. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., sole Props., Boston. "All about the Skin and Blood" mailed free.

OUR GUARANTEE.

If you see any goods like ours that you can buy for less money than ours, come back and get your money.

This is applied to every article purchased from us, and the best way we can show our trade that we back up our statement made previously.

"We are selling Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods and Hats at less money than any other store in the city," is by above guaranteed.

Remember our specials—50c. Ties at 29c.; Laundered Shirts, with collars and cuffs, at 49c.; Cotton Pants (not overalls) 50c.

Clothing to Order.

We are positively way below others in price; while in make and fit, we are way above. Look at the splendid goods we offer in suits at $16.50, $18 and $20; the same goods, only superior in make and trimmings, as other tailors ask $23, $25 and $28.
